

Business Fit (Whatsapp group sessions), being a continuity for Business Fit business sessions, is a business class designed for current and budding entrepreneurs who would like interactions with an active business consultant on a group or selectively one-on-one business session. During these sessions, participants will be put into groups with one administrative consultant to help and share tips that can actively improve the quality of their businesses.

The chat room formats can be through voice notes, images and text messaging only as we would like to limit the inter connectivity channels to make conversations simple enough for participants to follow. It is designed as an informal interactive business class where questions are asked and answers provided on a street scale level, reaching entrepreneurs and business owners of all categories.

The 2 hour session will follow a simple format:

1. Session 1: Introductory presentation
2. Session 2: Interactive question and answer session from the business owners to the consultant

The idea is also to create an easy channel to providing retainer/ ongoing consulting services to help businesses maneuver their various business challenges not limited to preparing for investment, managing employees, developing a winning pitch deck, building a quality business plan, implementing and continuously developing their business plans, proposals and other documentations.
